

Jessica S. Taylor

Rhode Island School of Design
2 College Street
Providence, RI 02903
302-981-7693
jtaylor@risd.edu

Objective: An design assistant position seeking strong design and digital animation skills, as well as an enthusiasm for creating visuals that excite and engage.

Education:

Rhode Island School of Design- Film/Animation/Video department
Providence, Rhode Island
Fall 2006-present

Delaware College of Art and Design-Animation Department
Wilmington, Delaware
Fall 2004- Spring 2006

Skills:

Art and Design: Proficient drawing and 2-dimensional design skills. Strong character animation skills applicable to both hand-drawn and digital animation.

Computer: Knowledge and experience with both Macintosh and PC platforms. Proficient with Final Cut Pro, Adobe After Effects, and Adobe Photoshop. Experience with Adobe Illustrator, Adobe Premiere, Maya, and Max/MSP/Jitter programming language.

Organizational: Maintained and updated a database of thousands of book titles, ISBN numbers, and categories. Responsible for maintaining accurate stock counts. Assisted with student scratch disk setup and file management in a RISD assistant teaching position.

People: Communicates clearly and effectively in verbal and written forms. Successfully assisted with instructing students in essential video production techniques. Invites current RISD parents and alumni to make crucial financial gifts to the college—currently ranked in the top 5 for highest donation totals earned.

Adaptability: Rapid learner. Able to adapt quickly to new creative tools and processes. Successful with advanced logic operations after six weeks of using the Max/MSP/Jitter programming language.

Work Experience:

Rhode Island School of Design College Annual Fund
Phonathon Caller Fall 2006- Present

RISD Film/Animation/Video Department
Teacher's Assistant-Video Explorations Winter 2007

Ninth Street Book Store
Receiving Clerk Fall 2005- Spring 2006